KOREA NOW ADVANCING RAPIDLY

The two addresses given by Rev. E. F. Hall at the Presbyterian church Sunday called forth large and appreciative audiences. The music furnished was excellent. In the evening the address was richly illustrated by some 75 views, many of them beautifully colored. The views were shown through Mr. Herrick's large stereopticon.

Mr. Hall was for several years a missionary in Korea and is now secretary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, with headquarters in San Francisco. In his lecture Sunday night he said:

Korea, Hermit Nation, Unlocked. Korea is one of the most down and out nations in the world today. It recently lost its independence and passed under the control of Japan. Korea has sprung into prominence in recent years because of two wars which were fought over her, in both of which Japan was successful. The first was between Japan and China in 1894, and the second between Japan and Russia in 1904. Since the second war Japan has made Korea a province of the Japanese empire by seizure, and has called it chosen.

Korea has not come into the limelight because of its size nor its great wealth, but because of its geographic position. Japan has long wanted a foothold on the continent of Asia, and she must cross Korea, an unfriendly nation, to get it. Russia wanted the southern parts of Korea as an outlet on the open sea for the Trans-Siberian railway. A railroad has been built from Fusan, the southern port of Korea, north the entire length of the country, and through Manchuria to Harbin, where connection is made with the Siberian railway. Thus the main highway between Japan and Europe is through Korea.

GRAND CIRCUIT OF AUTOMOBILE SPEEDWAYS

New York, Dec. 19.—The formation of a grand circuit of automobile speedways is being urged by manufacturers here and a definite movement looking to the organization of such a circuit will probably be made during the season of winter automobile shows early next year.

The advocates of the circuit scheme point out that one of the biggest items of expense in the racing business for manufacturers is caused by the long jumps about the country that have to be made to take in the leading meets. If a circuit is arranged, they say, so that teams could go from one track to the other, making short jumps, in a definite order, the public would probably become more conversant with what is being attempted and the manufacturers would be able to reduce expenses materially, a more general participation in racing would be possible, and many more makers would be able to enter.

Under this scheme racing at the beginning of the year would be conducted on the coast, Santa Monica, San Francisco and Seattle. From the coast the "racing stables" would journey to the middle-west, Chicago, Cleveland and other tracks thereabouts would follow naturally in the circuit and then the racers would journey further east. Buffalo and New York would get the meets thereafter for a time and then would come the racing in Philadelphia. With the coming of autumn the racers would move on to Atlanta, New Orleans and Texas points, with the year ending at Ormond and Jacksonville.

PULLMAN CHARGES

Reduction on Berths Will Take Effect on January 20

Washington, Dec. 19.—Tentative approval of the Interstate Commerce commission has been fixed for the charge for upper berths in Pullman cars at 50 per cent of the charge now paid for lower berths.

The new charge is to become effective throughout the United States, on or before January 20, 1911. Commissioner Lane announced today that the Pullman company had accepted the conclusions of the commission in what are known as the Pullman charges, that the rates for long distance lower berths and on all upper berths should be reduced. The commission's statement says:

"It is estimated that the reduction that will be made on all of the lines on which the Pullman cars are operated in the United States, excepting the New Haven road, the Great Northern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, will effect a net reduction of nearly $1,500,000 annually. The new rates for the lower berths appear to be based on a charge of $2 for a 12-hour run, excepting on some of the fastest trains, the upper berth rate being 20 per cent lower than the newly established rate on lower berths."

SANTA CLAUS MADE RUN ON A BANK

Newark, N. J., Dec. 19.—After a run of several days, the Township School bank of New Providence, N. J., finds itself still solvent, but with a balance of only $11 in deposits remaining. The bank was organized to help school children save their money. Any sum from 1 cent up is accepted.

Last week the Christmas buying fever seized the depositors and there was a rush of withdrawals. When the week's reports were all in the cashier struck a balance and found that Santa Claus had come within $11 of wiping out the institution.

AMERICAN LUMBER MEN FAR AHEAD OF OTHERS

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 19.—Baron Arthur de Groedel of Dudaup, who has been visiting lumber manufacturing plants and logging camps in the United States for the purpose of investigating American methods, announced last night that he would recommend the use of American machinery and methods on the estate of his father in Austria-Hungary, where 13,000 men are employed in the lumber industry.

American lumber men are far ahead of any other country in the world in regard to the methods used in logging off land and the manufacture of lumber, said Baron de Groedel. "All of our work is done by hand. We have had difficulty in keeping the large number of employees needed in the operation of our mills. We plan to substitute machinery for hand labor in our mills and on our timber tracts."

PAY BIG PRICE FOR STRAY CATS

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 18.—S. S. Gilbert has received a request from the State of Washington for 1,000 cats. The request is made in a letter from Albert J. Randall, formerly of Sharon, but now a resident of Okanagan county in the western state.

He writes that he will visit Pennsylvania within a month to pick up all the stray cats that can be delivered to him, for which he is willing to pay a fair price.

STATE INSPECTOR DECLARES A WAR

On Owners of Slaughter Houses Who Obstinately Fail to Obey the Law, After Having Been Warned—Prosecutions May Be Started by County Attorney.

Deputy State Food Inspector H. C. Smith of Salt Lake, in response to a letter from the local board of health, is in the city. Mr. Smith and City Food Inspector Hoyt have made a thorough examination of the slaughter yard conditions throughout the city. Their report on the situation is not favorable.

The inspectors state that there are slaughter yards in the city that will be greatly renovated and changed in many respects before they will come within the requirements of the state law. In some instances the conditions are flagrant violation of the law, because the parties were told a number of times ago that they must place their slaughtering places in better sanitary condition. This has not been done, and Inspector Smith thinks patience has ceased to be a virtue, and the matter will have to be turned over to the county attorney for settlement. Attorney Jensen is busy with the matter this afternoon.

The health officers say they will not longer tolerate unhealthful conditions at slaughter yards, that a cleaning up will be begun at once, and all parties disregarding the health regulations will be prosecuted.

The bringing of the girl from one state to the other for immoral purposes is what constitutes, under the federal laws, a "white slave" offense. The federal authorities at Salt Lake City will be notified of the evidence against Wisdon, and the man probably will be taken to the capital for trial.

STRIKE MAY YET BE CALLED

No results were expected today from the efforts of Mediator Charles P. Neill to adjust the differences between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the sixty-one western railroads from whom the brotherhood is asking increased wages. Mr. Neill held two conferences with the railway managers in Chicago Sunday, and one with the engineers.

It was announced by railroad managers and engineers that the chances of the mediation resulting in a settlement appeared very unfavorable.

AT OGDEN THEATRE

DE WOLF HOPPER, THURSDAY, DEC. 22.

More local interest has been aroused over the announced coming of De Wolf Hopper than for any theatrical event in a very long time. Mr. Hopper's position on the American stage is unique. There has been no actor since Jefferson's death who has so closely touched the hearts of the American public than has De Wolf Hopper. He is so essentially American in all that he does, his humor is so thoroughly native in all its aspects, that more than any other actor now before the public does he merit the appellation of which he is so proud and which he wears so worthily—America's favorite comedian.

Mr. Hopper will be seen at the Ogden theatre on Thursday, Dec. 22, for one night, in his latest song comedy success, "A Matinee Idol," which broke all records in Chicago for 100 nights and then went to New York, where it ran for four months most prosperously. He will be supported by Miss Louise Dresser, from whom no more charming singer of songs is known, and the entire New York company, the production being given here in its entirety, exactly as it was seen at Daly's and the Lyric theatres in New York.

Seats tomorrow (Tuesday) at 10 a. m.

STREET NOW IS BEING CLEARED

The Salt Lake & Ogden railroad company, in response to a demand from the city council that the north side of Twenty-fifth street, at the intersection of Lincoln avenue, be cleared of obstruction, and that the roadbed of the company be surfaced so as to make traffic possible, placed its stone block layers at work at that point Saturday. The work will be completed this evening, when the piles of dirt on either side of the track may be removed and the street opened for travel.

The work of placing the stone blocks on the roadbed from Twenty-fifth to Twenty-fourth streets, on Lincoln avenue, will be continued as long as the weather will permit. It is said by the workmen, though, that it will be useless to lay the stone blocks after the ground becomes frozen. If the stone surfacing of the roadway is not completed shortly it will be covered with sand, that teams may pass over it.

YOUNG GIRL WAS LED ASTRAY

Through the efforts of Madge Eilers, an eighteen-year-old denizen of the Alley, to secure the release of her paramour, Carl Wisdon, evidence has been secured against the man which may cause him to serve a term in a federal prison on a "white slave" charge.

On December 15, Wisdon was arrested on a pander and on a charge of vagrancy, was sentenced to serve 125 days in the city prison or pay a fine of $125. Since that time Wisdon has been locked up.

This morning the Eilers girl called at the police station and offered to pay the fine, asking that Wisdon be released. Detective Pender questioned

HAD TO USE PUMPS IN RIVER

A large pumping plant, having the capacity to move about 450 gallons of water each minute, has been installed on the Weber river where the city sewerage department is struggling to place the water main across the river to West Ogden.

The trench on the east side of the river bed has been excavated and incased in a wooden box, but the water fills the trench so rapidly that it is impossible to place the pipe in the trench and make the connections between joints, so the pump has been brought into action.

The men have been at work since Saturday noon installing the pump at the river. Foreman Taylor stated at noon today that he expected to begin pumping water this afternoon. The water out of the way, it will require but a short time to place the pipe and finish the joint.

The superintendent of the water works system states that he is quite certain that water will be turned into the West Ogden main by the first of the year.

DOG CAUSED A FAMILY ROW

Feeling that her affinity thought more of a pet dog which he owned than of his wife, Edith Cathcart of lower Twenty-fifth street sold her four-footed rival and was forced to purchase a revolver to protect herself from her irate consort.

This, in brief, was the story told on the witness stand by the woman who arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The Cathcart woman testified that for the past six years she has lived with Frank Cathcart, the two having waived the formality of a nuptial ceremony. Peace reigned in their home until her soulmate purchased a dog. With the canine came jealousy. When she could no longer withstand the antics of the interloper in her home she dragged it into the street with a piece of clothes line about its neck and sold it to the first customer she could find.

When her affinity came home that evening she told him what she had done and why she had done it. She vowed to him that she would permit nothing to alienate his affections; that she desired all his caresses for herself.

Cathcart replied to her loving words by lifting a piece of kindling wood from behind the stove and playfully shying it at her. The missile struck her in the back. A second piece of cord wood indented her anatomy at a lower altitude.

A general bombardment, in which the woman and man each took part, followed, but Mrs. Cathcart was finally driven from the house. From the house she went to a second-hand store and purchased a revolver and a box of cartridges. Thus armed, she returned to the house, but found that her companion in the meantime had departed.

This little humdrum of domestic life occurred last Friday evening. Feeling that the man would return to take possession of the house, Mrs. Cathcart decided to go after reinforcements and enlisted the services of Madge Eilers. On the way to the "fort" the two women purchased a can of beer and a pint of whiskey, part of which was disposed of on their arrival at the Cathcart home.

About midnight Cathcart knocked at the door for entrance. Seizing the revolver, the Cathcart woman went to the door and opened it, covering her affinity with the gun. He was ordered to leave, and to enforce the demand the woman fired a shot above his head. The man fled before the armed amazon, who fired two more shots into the air, and then returned to her bed.

The shots aroused the neighborhood and officers were sent to investigate the disturbance, with the result that the two women were arrested.

Both women told the same story of the trouble, and the report of the arresting officers was to the same effect.

In passing on the case Judge J. D. Murphy stated that the peace undoubtedly had been disturbed, and he would therefore sentence each woman to pay a fine of $50, such sentence to be suspended on the promise of good behavior.

CHICKENPOX SIGN IS CHANGED

A second case of smallpox is now under quarantine in this city, the disease having broken out in the family of Thomas Shreves, 2626 Barlow avenue.

The Shreves home has been under the surveillance of the sanitary department for several days, as it was thought that one of the children was suffering from chickenpox. As the disease developed, however, the physician in charge determined that the boy, instead of having chickenpox, was the victim of smallpox, and the quarantine placard on the front of the house accordingly was changed.

John Krueger, the smallpox patient who walked into the city from one of the grading camps of the Davis and Weber Counties Canal company, is reported to be recovering at the pest-house.

No other cases have been reported among the canal workers.

WILL PROSECUTE SALOONKEEPERS

In the arrest of two minors, Clyde Gale and James Greenwell, the police have secured evidence which places in jeopardy the dramshop licenses of four saloonists, against whom complaints will be filed this afternoon by City Attorney James DeVine.

Upon securing positive proof that liquor is being sold to minors, the police are preparing to prosecute more than a half dozen saloonkeepers of this city.

There have been no arrests or prosecutions on this charge for some time past and as a result a number of saloonkeepers have grown careless, and in some cases have knowingly disregarded the ordinance providing a penalty for such an offense.

During the past few weeks the officers have found boys not yet 21 years of age in a beastly state of intoxication and upon their arrest secured the names of the saloonkeepers who sold them the liquor. In view of this positive evidence, it is not expected that the dramshop keepers will fight the action brought against them.

"We are going to put a stop to this practice," said Chief of Police Brown, last night, "and in addition to pushing the prosecutions which we have on hand, we will keep a close watch and arrest every saloonkeeper who violates the ordinance. The officers have been instructed to post themselves on the premises of the saloon and report its slightest violation."

ADJOURNED DISTRICT COURT

The parties in the case of Henry W. Edgington against the Union Portland Cement company, not being ready to go to trial this morning in the district court, the court was adjourned until tomorrow morning, at which time the hearing of the suit of the Utah-Oregon Lumber company against W. M. Joseph will be taken up.

The juryman were instructed to be in court at ten o'clock Tuesday morning. The Edgington case was continued until Wednesday, because of the death of a nephew of Attorney Halverson, who is acting as counsel for the plaintiff.
